Homework #4

1. The more you read, the smarter you'll become.
 - Claim: Reading stimulates your brain.
 - Reason to accept this: Because it uses your brain to create images, verses television which provides everything already for you.
 - Support: "The authors note that imaging technology such as MRIs (magnetic resonance imaging) reveals that brain activity patterns differ in strong readers and struggling readers" (Cunningham, 20). add article, d

2. Football is the most dangerous sport.
 - Many head injuries are a result of football.
 - Reason to accept this: Because the players go full force at each other during the game.
 - Support: "The injuries resulted in subdural hematoma in 75 athletes, subdural hematoma with diffuse brain edema in 10 athletes, diffuse brain edema in 5 athletes, and arteriovenous malformation or aneurysm in 4 athletes" (Frederick, 1075).
